We all understand that networking is important for developing our professional careers. The trick is to employ on the networking techniques that give you the most “bang for the buck”. Although there are many networking techniques to expand your professional networks, perhaps the most effective technique is volunteering.

In this presentation, Kevin Reilly will share with you the reasons why volunteering is such a successful networking technique. He will share his own personal volunteering and networking success stories, and provide great tips about leveraging volunteering to fit your goals, and more. Among the specific steps he will discuss are understanding the benefits of volunteering & networking; analyzing your skills; determining your volunteering & networking goals; selecting the right organization; leveraging your volunteer time to include networking, and so much more.

Join Kevin Reilly and other Southern California project management and business professionals, and learn how to take your networking skills to the next level.

Kevin W. Reilly is a Senior Consultant at KR-PM Training Solutions with over 20 years in the Information Technology industry as a Project Manager, Trainer, Implementation Specialist, Agile Coach and Speaker. He has taught PMP® Exam Prep, PMI-ACP® Exam Prep, Advanced Agile Project Management and Project Risk Management, and has been a guest speaker at numerous PMI Chapter Events across the US.

Kevin's value comes from a deep background in the Systems Development Lifecycle that enables him to tailor his Coaching, Teaching, and Presentations to the specific needs of the audience.

Kevin is an Adjunct Instructor for the University of California Irvine's (UCI) School of Extended Studies in the Advanced Project Management Certificate Program. He is also an advisor to the Project Management Certificate Programs at both the University of San Diego (USD) and Mount San Jacinto College (MSJC). He holds BS Degrees in Business Administration, and Computer Information Science, and a BA in French History and Conversation. He is certified as a Project Management Professional (PMP®) and as an Agile Certified Practitioner (PMI-ACP PMP®) and also holds additional certifications.
